OverviewAt Blondy's we have an eye for detail. We clean our customers home as if it were our own. The first time we clean our customer's home....we our always complimented on the noticeable difference in their home. I enjoy making a difference in someone's life. For example just the other day I was cleaning a new customers home. This customer was a single parent. It was obvious that between having a full time job and being a full time single parent it was challenging. As my customer was making dinner
