OverviewThe Texas sun dries out both hardwood doors and fiberglass doors. The sun's UV rays cause the finish to peel and fades the original stain. If the wood dries out it causes deep cracks in the grain and in the glued joints letting moisture in. Ultimately it can destroy your door. It's much less expensive to refinish your existing door than it would be to buy a new one! Remember...if you are selling your home...your door & your door hardware are the first things your potential buyer will see, and
