Overview A wedding is one of the most special events of your life and as an ordained minister, I will help you create a lasting, beautiful experience that reflects your unique relationship and individual beliefs. With your tailored needs in mind I'm sure you'll be happy working with me to achieve them. I was ordained during my younger years and since then I have performed ceremonies for mostly family and friends. Now I've decided to branch out and share that loving feeling with as many as possible.
