OverviewAquaponics as an Agent of Social Revolution and Climate Action As I think about aquaponics more and more, I get more ideas flowing, because I see how it could be a hub or linchpin connecting so many different, seemingly disparate, but really interconnected issues. The key advantages and characteristics of aquaponics are that it's practical, easy to grasp, relatively simple to set up, it's very water efficient, it can be compact, it's sustainable, it's highly adaptable, it reduces the physical
