OverviewMy Background I've loved taking pictures since I took my first photography class in high school. And I'm inspired by the love I have for my home city. I have also photographed many different subjects, scenes, and moments all over the world. There's a picture around every corner. Photography as Communication I am surrounded both by natural beauty and interesting people. I use my camera to document the world and then print images with a focus on the magic I find in daily life. My pictures tell
